COUNCIL MEETING

The regular fortnightly meeting of the town council on Monday night was presided over by Mayor Farmer, with Councillors Beebe, Morgan, Ferguson, McEvoy and Hamilton in attendance.

The minutes of previous regular meeting were approved as read and a number of accounts passed for payment.

Applications for leave of absence from Councillor Mark Sartoris for three months, dating from December the 1st, and Chief Spence for two weeks, dating from December the 26th, were considered favorably.

Mr. W. D. Spence, deputy minister of municipal affairs, was present and addressed the council briefly. Mr. Spence took occasion to congratulate the presiding-council upon the splendid financial position of the town, complimenting them also upon their having made the meeting quarters very comfortable and habitable, and for having once more decided to economize through the amalgamation of affairs with the school district.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTION

At the conference of South Alberta Boards of Trade, held in Calgary last week, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, a market for industrial coal exists in the city of Winnipeg and the province of Manitoba, and in points to the east thereof, which is at present being supplied from the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, it is in the interests of the development of Canadian industry that Canadian markets be supplied from Canadian sources, and

Whereas, the existing freight rates on coal from Alberta to Manitoba make it difficult, if not impossible, for points in Alberta producing industrial coal to compete to advantage with Pennsylvania coal to the Manitoba market;

Now therefore be it resolved, that such action should be taken by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, or failing such action by the Government of Canada, as shall insure that the Manitoba and east to Fort William and Port Arthur markets be supplied with industrial coal from the producing points thereof in the Alberta bituminous coal fields."

Messrs. L. L. Morgan, president of the Blairmore Board of Trade; G. A. Vissac general manager of the West Canadian Collieries Limited, and A. Greig, manager for the McLaren Lumber Co., were in attendance from Blairmore; while the Coleman Board of Trade was represented by Mr. H. T. Hallwell, editor of the Coleman Journal.

Blairmore received a visit on Saturday from Mrs. Andrew Bryden and Mrs. Mamie Campbell, former residents, now of Lethbridge. Mrs. Campbell was formerly Miss Mamie Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boyd, who resided on Ninth Avenue South.

A meeting of the Rocky Mountain branch of the C.I.M.M. will be held at the Greenhill hotel on Monday, December 12th, at 8 p.m. Arrangements have been made to show the film, "Brown Coal Mining and Briquetting in Australia," at the Orpheum theatre prior to the meeting and members are requested to be present at the theatre prompt at 6:45 p.m., as this picture will require approximately one hour to be screened.

Others who would be interested in seeing this picture kindly get in touch with Mr. M. Johnson. A general discussion will take place at the meeting to follow, and several matters of general business will come up for consideration, including nominations for two councillors, who retire at the end of the Institute year.

LOCAL ELKS HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

In accordance with the ritual of Elldom, the local lodge of Elks on Sunday last observed the day in memory of departed members.

At 3:30 p.m. an audience of around one hundred and twenty had gathered in the Elks' hall, where the exalted ruler, Bro. R. W. H. Pinkney, opened the ceremony in prescribed form, briefly addressing the gathering upon the importance and significance of the occasion. He referred to the opportunity offered local brother Elks to in such a fitting way memorialize deceased members, mentioning Bros. Louis Dutil, Denis F. Fleming, Harry J. Benson and William J. Huston, who in the brief course of three years had passed on to act under the Supreme Exalted Ruler of The Universe.

The exalted ruler expressed regret at the absence of the Upton orchestra, which had so kindly offered to assist at this service, but, owing to the impassable condition of the roads, the majority of the members of that organization were unable to get in from Hillcrest.

The service opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by the Memorial Ritual by the officers of the lodge.

Then followed the opening ode, "Great Ruler of the universe, etc." and the opening prayer by the acting chaplain, Bro. George Moffatt.

A solo, "Queen of the Earth," was feeling rendered by Mrs. L. L. Morgan, followed by the memorial address by Rev. J. W. Smith, and Byron's "Thanatos," by Past Exalted Ruler Bro. J. E. Gillis.

The solo, "Beyond the Dawn," was very well rendered by Mrs. J. A. Kerr.

The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Gordon Steeves, Miss Madeleine Chardron and Bro. Ed. Royle, acted as accompanists.

CHARTER FOR NEW RAILWAY OKOTOKS TO FERNIE, B.C.

Application has been made for a Dominion charter for the Highwood Western Railway, the plan calling for a line running southwest from Okotoks to the Highwood River, then westerly to the Ford coal property, and southwest to a point at or near Fernie, B.C. The names of those appearing on the application for the charter are H. A. Wood, Geo. H. Webster, W. M. Robertson, Frank J. Webster, Dr. A. E. Aikenhead, John A. Hunter and Robert McGrath, of Calgary, and John C. McNab, of Winnipeg.

H. A. Ford informed the press Friday that the railway company would be capitalized at $3,000,000 and that it was planned to build a line to the coal property first. This would entail about 42 miles of construction, entailing an estimated cost of $800,000, he said. Surveys would be started next week, he added. Ford Coals, Limited, would be capitalized at $5,000,000. Mr. Ford stated that engineers reported after an examination of the property this year that there were 700,000,000 tons of recoverable coal on the Highwood property that would be served by the projected railway.

Andrew Thompson is handling the charter applications at Ottawa. —Ex.

The Blairmore senior hockey team were defeated 6 to 4 by the Blairmore Juniors (last year's provincial champions) in the opening game of the season on Thursday night last. For the first two periods the ice was somewhat sticky, but an east wind favored the players for the closing period, which was really fast; and in which the Juniors showed themselves up well. The game was refereed by Mr. J. McAndrew. About two hundred and fifty fans were present.

Teaching Hatred Of BritainHeds Spending Unlimited Funds In China Says General Sutton

The whole of Mongolia is now in the hands of the Chinese and they are sending hundreds of millions of dollars with unlimited funds into southern China with the idea of raising haughty and arrogant Great Britain." General F. A. Sutton, picturesque soldier of fortune and promoter, told the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The man, who for six years was military adviser to Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, head of the Pekin government, declared that he had seen orders from the Moscow government, directly advocating wholesale murder to stir up anti-British feeling.

According to General Sutton, 99 per cent of the people of China were hopelessly poverty stricken. The urgent necessity of getting something to eat was the main consideration of the bulk of the population.

General Sutton thought the main source of trouble in China as it affected Great Britain was in Britain's lack of a strong navy.

To a great degree the fact that practically the whole of Southern China was now pure Bolshevik came as a result of this policy, he declared.

New Ruling For SettlersWill Receive Medical Certificates Before Leaving For Canada

Interviewed in London on the recently announced intention of the Canadian Government to establish in Great Britain, Canadian medical officers for examination of intending settlers for the Dominion, Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, said that the new plan is being put into effect with the object of averting possible expense and waste of time to the migrant and of avoiding the possibility of rejection on arrival in Canada through failure to comply with Canadian medical regulations.

Under the new plan all who desire to settle in Canada will be medically examined free of charge before leaving their homes. This examination will be final and will be further examination on arrival at a Canadian port. It will also prevent possibility of intending migrants giving up their positions or selling their business until they have passed the Canadian doctor.

Cottage Hospital For Women Lepers

Romance Surrounds Gift of London Postman To Indian Colony

Francis Cardinal, a London postman who delivers letters in Cornwall Road, has called for India on special leave to open a cottage hospital which he has built for women lepers.

Mr. Cardinal served in India during the war, and was impressed with the sufferings of the ostracized lepers.

After the war he became acquainted with an old woman of nearly eighty, who lived next door, and was also interested in lepers. A bond of sympathy grew up between them, and Mr. Cardinal became a sort of adopted son.

A short time ago the old woman died, and left him a small sum of money, which Mr. Cardinal has put with his own savings, making just enough to build a cottage hospital at the Manaduram leper colony, Southern India, at a cost of £125 and pay for his trip to open it.

There was a flat stone by the river to which she often took her English book to read. For she loved the sound of the flowing water. It brought her back to the elemental things of life, and told her again the stories she had heard when she was a child—stories of man's long struggle with the wilderness, flood, famine and cold—and in its blithes murmurings Helmi could discern a warning note, it was trying to tell her that winter was coming, pitiless and cold; and that now was the time, when the grass was green and the water running, to build protection from the cold, and lay up stores against the long, white, desolate days. And although the river spoke only of the winter, Helmi knew it had a deeper meaning—and no matter how hard she studied her English book she could not altogether quell the voice of the years.

The velvety breezes of summer which went by—her—some cool and fragrant, with the wolf-willow which grew thick around the edge of the sanc-e; some hot, like—a-blast, from an oven—brought the same story and the same urge.illing her with a discontent and a vague restlessness that was new and disturbing. When she could bear it no longer Helmi always was able to drown the voices by a new orgy of cleaning at the boarding-house. She had never heard of sublimation, but she knew that something mysterious and uncontrollable drove her into activity, and in it she found peace.

Helmi was happiest when she saw a long day's work ahead of her, nerve and muscle firing—a day's work that would send her to bed so tired and sleepy that the thought of sleep would go by like a blast, bounded on one side by the warmth her head touched the pillow, and on the other side by the first whirr of the alarm clock. She had done all the could for her own little box of a room under the rafters. She had braided a mat for the floor, and hung blinds of four sacking, washed white and rolled on a red crocheted cord. She had also made holders for her clothes out of rolled newspapers.

One day Helmi was on her way

TORTURED FOR SIX MONTHS

Maritime Man Completely Relieved of Kidney Trouble by Gin Pills

When kidney stones are inflamed or clogged life becomes a misery—
Mr. W. McArthur of St. John, N.B., realized. Fortunately, he also discovered Gin Pills, and gratefully wrote:

"I suffered for six months with kidney trouble. I had to have an operation before I could go back to my heavy work in the timber yards. I was unable to get relief until I tried Gin Pills. By the druggist, Dr. G. McArthur, of St. John. I had no more trouble."

Mr. McArthur is not the first person saved from the surgeon's knife by Gin Pills. For years, Gin Pills have relieved acute kidney conditions.

Never neglect backache, headache, back pain in urine, swollen joints, dizziness, spots before the eyes, painful, scanty or too frequent urination. Nature's warning of kidney trouble. Take Gin Pills. W. N. U. 1710

The sky seemed to split wide open above her head as she ran; the heavens were lashed with knotted cords of flame swinging by lightning's giant hands. But Helmi ran on. She must get to this man and bring him in. She thought of Peter Gaunt, all blackened and hunched beside his plough. She called to him above the storm, and he must have heard for he turned toward her, smiling. Then came a flash that blinded her and turned the world into blackest night. Something fell into her arms.

The sky opened her eyes again, and she was sitting on the pile of lumber, holding someone in her arms, someone face to face gazing in the wan light, and whose eyes were closed. A cry broke from Helmi's lips. "Jack Doran!" she cried. "Oh, Jack Doran, is it you?"

She carried him into the house, his weight so light she could hardly lift him. Her one impulse was to set him to shelter before the storm broke. His drops fell on his face as she hurried along, and instinctively she leaned further over him to shelter him. There was no lounge or bed downstairs, no place where she could lay him. To her own room she brought him and laid him on her bed. He moaned when she laid him down. Then she ran to alarm the house. The rain was coming down, now in torrents, racing in a mad flood down the windows, filling the house with a steady, deafening roar, through which peals of thunder came bursting like canons.

Mrs. McMann ploughed steamily up the stairs. "He ain't dead," she said, "nor nothing near it, but he's been stunned. You see there ain't a mark on him, but he sure had a nasty fall. It was lucky for him you saw him."

Helmi did not speak.

"He'd been drowned to death unless it was if he had been left lying there. Gosh, isn't that one awful rain. We can't send for the doctor just now, that's sure. Anyways, I don't think there's anything to do for Jack but just let him lie. He's breathin' all right, and his color is comin' back."

Helmi watched Jack's pale face anxiously. His cheeks were beginning to lose their ghastly pallor, and his lips were reddening. She noted admiringly the white, wavy hair, the gracefully arched eyebrows, and the skin of the neck so smooth and white. Helmi touched Jack's forehead gently with her hand. There was something strangely familiar about his face as she lay before her.

For two days Jack Doran lay with open speakers. Once he opened his eyes and seemed about to awake, but turned over on his side and went into another long sleep. The men came to see him, and proffered much advice. "Lots of fresh air," they said, "and keep everything quiet, and just leave him alone." Helmi, rolled in a blanket, slept on the floor. The men had suggested carrying Jack to the bunkhouse, but she had objected. She didn't mind keeping him, she said, and the bunk-house was noisy.

Tribute of Two Nations

Tombs of Unknown Soldiers Forever Honored in France and England

In Westminster Abbey on the tomb of the British "Unknown Soldier" are the words: "After the shadows, light."

Under the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, sleeps the French "Unknown Soldier."

"A light is kept burning and the marble slab are these words:

"Here lies a French Soldier, dead for his country. Before he lie, little colder France, everyone kneels, weeping for the son, the father, the brother, the husband and going to each one such glory grand. France bows down and mourns for her best children, who, in giving their lives, saved their country. Under the Triumphal Arch, rest forever, Unknown Soldier."

One sultry Sunday morning just before daybreak, Helmi was awakened by a shuddering crash of thunder that seemed to burrow under the boarding-house, then burst upward with a terrific crack like the blasting on the mines. She ran to the window. A dull blue light was over everything, and great black clouds in common were advancing in the western sky. She watched them, fascinated, as they billowed, surged and twisted with an inward rolling motion. Then she thought of the lumber on the knoll—would get wet and lose its lovely satiny sheen. When she looked the saw a man was standing there, sawing a board. He was unconscious, as if the sun were shining. Then a flash of lightning ran along the blade of his saw, and Helmi shut her eyes in fright as mother deftly pealed shook the windows in their casings.

Helmi's mind acted quickly. Sunday morning—a man at work—and now a thunderstorm! God speaking to the wicked! God would not like to see a man building his house on Sunday, and yet Helmi knew how the man felt.

It wasn't wicked—he could not help wanting to build—he knew how he felt—she felt too. Now she was running down stairs and out into the storm.

Language in India may or may not be a guide to race.

The sky seemed to split wide open above her head as she ran; the heavens were lashed with knotted cords of flame swinging by lightning's giant hands. But Helmi ran on. She must get to this man and bring him in. She thought of Peter Gaunt, all blackened and hunched beside his plough. She called to him above the storm, and he must have heard for he turned toward her, smiling. Then came a flash that blinded her and turned the world into blackest night. Something fell into her arms.

The sky opened her eyes again, and she was sitting on the pile of lumber, holding someone in her arms, someone face to face gazing in the wan light, and whose eyes were closed. A cry broke from Helmi's lips. "Jack Doran!" she cried. "Oh, Jack Doran, is it you?"

She carried him into the house, his weight so light she could hardly lift him. Her one impulse was to set him to shelter before the storm broke. His drops fell on his face as she hurried along, and instinctively she leaned further over him to shelter him. There was no lounge or bed downstairs, no place where she could lay him. To her own room she brought him and laid him on her bed. He moaned when she laid him down. Then she ran to alarm the house. The rain was coming down, now in torrents, racing in a mad flood down the windows, filling the house with a steady, deafening roar, through which peals of thunder came bursting like canons.

Mrs. McMann ploughed steamily up the stairs. "He ain't dead," she said, "nor nothing near it, but he's been stunned. You see there ain't a mark on him, but he sure had a nasty fall. It was lucky for him you saw him."

Helmi did not speak.

"He'd been drowned to death unless it was if he had been left lying there. Gosh, isn't that one awful rain. We can't send for the doctor just now, that's sure. Anyways, I don't think there's anything to do for Jack but just let him lie. He's breathin' all right, and his color is comin' back."

Helmi watched Jack's pale face anxiously. His cheeks were beginning to lose their ghastly pallor, and his lips were reddening. She noted admiringly the white, wavy hair, the graciously arched eyebrows, and the skin of the neck so smooth and white. Helmi touched Jack's forehead gently with her hand. There was something strangely familiar about his face as she lay before her.

For two days Jack Doran lay with open speakers. Once he opened his eyes and seemed about to awake, but turned over on his side and went into another long sleep. The men came to see him, and proffered much advice. "Lots of fresh air," they said, "and keep everything quiet, and just leave him alone." Helmi, rolled in a blanket, slept on the floor. The men had suggested carrying Jack to the bunkhouse, but she had objected. She didn't mind keeping him, she said, and the bunk-house was noisy.

THE PORT OF MONTREAL

A splendid contribution to the historical records of Canada's Jubilee of Confederation is presented in the form of a beautiful book issued by the Harbour Commissioners of Montreal, entitled "The Growth of a Great Port."

A copy of this book we have the pleasure of acknowledging. Apart from the excellence of the subject matter, both in effect and style, a feature is the series of illustrations, including some fine steel engravings, showing in graphic manner the building up of the little Indian village that was now the Canadian metropolis.

The book deals in detail with the facilities afforded by Montreal to the various industries of the Dominion, its equipment in the highest degree of efficiency and its great advantage as a port of embarkation. It is really "a chronicle of progress, and," as the Albertan states, "while it deals with only one section of the Dominion, its story might well be taken as illustrative of the growth of greater Canada."

Owing to a large number of stubs of tickets for the dance and car presentation, scheduled to take place in Fernie on December the 15th under the auspices of the Fernie D.O.K.K.s, in aid of the Fernie Lodge Knights of Pythias building fund, not arriving from outside points, and other unforeseen circumstances, the committee in charge have decided to postpone the affair until March the 15th, 1928. Purchasers of tickets are therefore requested to retain their tickets until that date.

In the blizzard that swept over Alberta on Monday, at least six lives were lost, including a little seven-year-old girl.

The Bellevue arena was opened for general skating and hockey practice on Saturday last.

O CANADA!

(From London Truth, 45 years ago)

"The Canadian Pacific Railway company has begun to launch its business. It's a race if it can be finished, with an iron road across Trust-bound for seven or eight months of the year, and will connect with the eastern part of the Dominion, a barren, cold, mountain country, that is not worth keeping. It would never have been started if it were not a trap-part of the Hudson Bay Company that had the 'gold-fever' taken a party of mining adventurers there. Fifty railroads would not galvanize it into existence. The people of the West settlement will not hold out many years. The people who have gone there cannot stand the coldness of the winter. Men and cattle are not to speak of, numbers that would accomplish the intended settlement will be killed outright and maintained for frostbites."

The above quotation from London
"Truth" (about the title not be London "Fiction"?) was reprinted in the "Canadian Congress Journal" last month and shows the tremendous ignorance of Canada in England.

And, unfortunately, this ignorance, though modified, has been entirely disseminated.

But similar ignorance was found in Canada about the Canadian Pacific Railway even less than 45 years ago.

The financial editor of the Montreal
Star consulted the leading stock broker some forty years ago about buying C.P.R. shares which were then about 50 or 55.

The broker asked his client if he were a fool to think of throwing money away, saying that when the government guarantee expired, the shares would not sell for less than twenty.

The editor had been over the line and believed there was a wonderful future, but the broker—presumably the best posted man—was unconvinced.

Such was the opinion of the leading man in the street about the prospects of the C.P.R.

Even today, too few Canadians know their own country. They go to the United States or Europe for their holidays and do not "know Canada."

when the wireless system was out of commission. Another bill provided for the guarding of our coast fisheries by placing a navy on the Old Man leap year, as their aggressions were considered unfair to the fair sex.

Canada's Gold and what it means to You!

Never in the history of a country has any industry shown such phenomenal growth as that of the Canadian Mining Industry during the past few years.

Never before in the history of any country or industry have such unbelievably large profits been returned to the individual investors.

More important still! NEVER BEFORE HAS THERE BEEN A SITUATION SUCH AS THIS WHERE A MAN WITH ONLY LIMITED CAPITAL MAY INVEST A MODERATE AMOUNT WITH SUCH EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR LARGE RETURNS FROM HIS INVESTMENT!

There is no reason for not knowing what is going on! Upon receipt of a letter or postal card, the company named below will cheerfully furnish reliable information to anyone interested in learning full details of one of the most outstanding mining developments of recent years in the entire North country.

THE NORTH AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT LIMITED
CANADIAN PACIFIC BUILDING
TORONTO, ONTARIO

On To The North!

Whatever misgivings the people of Canada have had regarding the building of the Hudson Bay Railway and the creation of a worthwhile port on the Bay are being rapidly dispelled as word after week announcement is made of conditions and discoveries and new developments in the vast area to be opened and served by the new route.

In times past pessimistic opinions were held and views expressed relative to Canada's future and the doubtful success of many Canadian enterprises. The prairie section of Canada would never, according to official reports to the British Government, be fit for agricultural settlement. Later, the construction of the C.P.R. was described as the apex of folly—it could not pay for axle grease. Still later, it was emphatically declared that wheat could not be successfully grown west of Moose Jaw. There was a time when the idea of making Montreal an ocean port was openly ridiculed, the world being asked to consider the impracticality of creating an ocean port hundreds of miles from the sea up a river frozen solid for many months of the year.

But Western Canada has become the granary of the Empire and has made Canada the greatest wheat exporting country in the world; hundreds of millions of bushels are raised west of Moose Jaw; the C.P.R. is the greatest transportation system under one management in the world today; Montreal stands second only to New York as the chief port of the North American continent.

And now that construction of the Hudson Bay Railway is being energetically proceeded with, enthusiasm and businesslike methods having replaced former lukewarmness and decisions based on guesswork, the old opposition is dying away as step by step former fallacies and misconceptions are removed. So great has been the progress made in this direction that all political parties are outspoken in support of and pledged to the project, thus removing the area of partisan controversy.

The railway has been completed to within approximately 150 miles of Churchill, and contracts have been let for this additional mileage. Work on the creation of an up-to-date, fully equipped port has commenced. The continuous aerial survey of the straits now in progress has already brought the information to hand that the doubting Thomases, that both Bay and Straits have remained free from ice for a much longer period than was formerly believed to be the case.

Opponents of the Bay project always contended that navigation would be so perilous, and, as a consequence, insurance rates on boats and cargoes so high as to be prohibitive, that no shipping company would undertake to establish a service on such a route. But already a responsible steamship company has opened negotiations with the Government for the establishment of a line of vessels operating in and out of Churchill, while insurance authorities have announced that there is no reason why the rates of insurance to be charged should not be high or a deterrent to the success of the route.

As if these things were not in themselves sufficient to justify the expenditure on the road to the Bay, there comes official announcement of the completion of arrangements between the Dominion Government, the Manitoba Government, and the wealthy Whitney interests of New York for the building of a branch line of railway from The Pas on the H.B. line to the Flin Flon mining area which will be a feeder to the Hudson Bay Railway and provide an enormous and paying traffic.

This contract further involves the development of a great power plant at White Mad Falls near the Hudson Bay line, the construction of a proper transmission line to The Pas, and the establishment of great pulp mills, all of which will provide a huge volume of freight quite apart from the through traffic to and from Churchill. This subsidiary expenditure is estimated to reach no less than fifty to sixty millions of dollars, and provides for extensive northern development which could not possibly be undertaken without the Hudson Bay Railway.

And it is confidently predicted that this is only a beginning, and that with the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway, and this new branch line to it, there will follow a new era of exploration and prospecting that will result in uncovering as yet unknown sources of great mineral wealth.

Canada in the past has suffered the disadvantage of lacking depth concomitant with its great breadth. Development to the north in the next decade or two gives rich promise of removing that disadvantage.

Autos For the Army

Motor Vehicles May Take the Place Of Horses in United States Army

Even in the army old doubts may lose caste and the motor vehicle take its place under the plans of the United States War Department. Instructions have been issued for an inquiry to determine to what extent automotive power can be substituted for animal in military transportation.

Several points are in favor of automotive transportation according to army officers, especially in overseas movements, where animals are difficult to secure. The study will be made in practically every branch of the army. It will be commensurate with similar investigations in other armies, it is indicated.

Will Improve Radio Reception

Forecast Made By Chief Of Canadian Delegation To Conference

Commander Edwards who has just returned from the radio conference at Washington forecasts improvement in radio reception in Canada.

There were discussions with the federal commission of the United States for the establishment of a band of waves below 300 meters in which the power would be limited to 50 watts. No high power stations would be allowed on this band, and it would take care of the large number of low powered local stations which will function without any interference.

Nitrogen From The Air

Sentinels Must Decide Whether Atmosphere Will Be Exhausted

Britain now leads the world in the economic production of nitrogen from the air. Whether we can take too much nitrogen from the air, and be faced with the problem of an exhausted atmosphere instead of an exhausted soil is a point which chemists decide. If it turns human power to the task of extracting the oxygen which the oxygen would gain ground at expense of the nitrogen; and, since oxygen is the incendiary and invigorating animal life might blaze up into new phases of terrific energy that would keep pace with the vegetation that had been stimulated by the extracted nitrogen.

TRIALS OF INDIGESTION

Errors About This Trouble Which People Fall

Many people so far misunderstood the digestive system as to treat it like a machine, neglecting it until it was visibly deteriorated. The stomach needs help at all times, but a study of the process of digestion will show that sedatives are needed to assist the body in digesting food.

To safeguard your digestion the diet must be controlled. The eating of heavy meals, but one cannot simulate enough food to supply the needs of the blood. Remember, the blood has to carry nourishment to all parts of the body and find its way into the pitch lake of the stomach.

However, the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work.

Therefore the sure remedy for indigestion is to build up the blood. If you suffer from a form of indigestion choose your diet carefully and take wholesome nourishment.

Above all, start building up your blood by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will find that the influence of the new blood supply, your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite improve and you feel better. Attained Rank During Cuban War Of Independence

Juana Ariza Verdecia, the only woman who attained the rank of colonel in the Cuban war of independence, is dead at the age of 116, at her home on the Uvero farm, near Bayamo, Oriente, according to a daughter from that town.

During the ten years of war, Colonel Verdecia rendered valuable services in the field, leading her troops in person and more than once engaging in hand-to-hand conflict with Spaniards.

Ancient Custom Broken

Egyptian Woman Stood Unveiled In Presence Of King

In all the many dynasties which have rolled over Egypt only one woman of the Nile has ever stood unveiled in the presence of a Pharaoh and lived to tell the tale.

The one woman who has had this experience had it the other day when King Fuad of Egypt was the guest of the President of the French Republic. Madame Hackel, wife of an Egyptian newspaper editor, dared to do this thing. She was dressed by a Paris dressmaker; and though it might have been the strangeness of being well dressed that nerve her to this act of daring, there was something also in being connected with the liberty of the press.

Thus, little noticed by grave historians, many great changes could take place. Madame Hackel's courage can be regarded as one of the liberties of the women of the East from the bonds of custom that have bound them for centuries. Queen Vashti refused to come unveiled into the presence of King Ahasuerus and his court; Madame Hackel has asserted the right of women to enter the presence of the King unveiled and look the monarch in the face.

Good Law and Sound Logic

Motorists Have No Right But To Regard Rights Of Others

That others than motorists have rights on the highways seems to have been forgotten by many car drivers. It is too often presumed that pedestrians and children have not as much right to the highway as any automobile, but the sentence to three years

Kingsford penitentiary by Judge Riddell of a motorist who killed a three-year-old boy may serve to remind reckless speeders that their rights are a long way from being paramount. His lordship in passing sentence intimated plainly such rights as the car-driver has in the following words: "The great and insolent lesson must be taught and taught again, until it is thoroughly understood and heeded by all, that the whole right of the highway is the right to pass over it carefully and with due regard to the rights of others." This is good law and sound logic.

Britain Owns Curious Lake

Has Natural Deposit Of Soda And Depth Is Unknown

The British Empire possesses another curious and valuable lake besides the pitch lake of Trinidad. The natural deposit of soda was noted at Marandí, in Kerec, Golondrina, Lake Victoria, Nyanza. This lake has an area of at least fifty square miles and an unknown depth.

It is so concentrated as to contain crystals as well as their "mother liquor" and it looks in consequence as if it were frozen. No sooner has excavation taken place than more soda is deposited from saturated water from many springs. Thus the supply seems inexhaustible and a railway has been built especially to serve it, refineries have been established, and something approaching 200,000 tons of soda are produced there annually.

Increase In Crime In the U.S.

Steadily Increasing Number Of Inmates In Prisons and Reformatories

It is indeed a sad commentary on current conditions that crime in all parts of the United States is growing with such rapidity. This situation is reflected in the steadily increasing number of inmates in prisons and reformatories. In a recent report by the United States Census Bureau, covering institutions in thirty-one states, it was found that between 1923 and 1926 the number of prisoners committed from the courts increased 53.3 per cent.—Thrift Magazine.

The extraordinary effect of the speech of Prince of Wales before the Canadian Club in London, in spreading all over the speech Canada House and the Canadian Pacific offices in London were deluged with inquiries from business men anxious to secure further information and a flood of enquiries has flowed in from Bristol, Liverpool and Glasgow as well as from London.

Building New Type 'Plane

Will Carry Two Persons and 100 Pounds of Baggage

An entirely new type of civil aircraft, costing only $3,000, is being made at Peterboro, Ont., according to Capt. H. Ayres, who was in Ottawa conferring with officials of the air board.

Captain Ayres says the new craft has been designed with a view to solving the housing problem of machines and providing a fool-proof plane which the private individual can operate with a maximum of safety.

The new ship which carries two persons together with 100 pounds of baggage, has a cruising capacity of seven hours and can maintain a speed of 110 miles an hour.

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was beneficial, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Freshness need not be sacrificed when it comes to the use of Castoria.

HAS EXERCISED OPTION ON FLIN FLON PROPERTY

Toronto.—The Mining Corporation of Canada Limited announces that Harry Payne Whitney has exercised in full his option to purchase the Flin Flon property. The corporation retained a 15 per cent. interest, and also acquiring a 15 per cent. interest in all claims and interests separately owned by the Whitney interests in the Flin Flon district.

Payment in full of the purchase money has been made cash, the corporation receiving $54,000.

The original option provided for payment of much the greater part of the purchase price in bonds secured upon the property, maturing over a period of years, but not bearing interest until Sept. 1, 1929. Subsequent negotiations resulted in these terms being altered and a cash purchase price being agreed upon. From the sum received the corporation, in accordance with the terms of the original option, is contributing roughly £1,000 towards the costs incurred in connection with the experimental work carried on at Denver and on the properties themselves, which expense to date almost $10,000.

Montreal.—An official announcement issued from the headquarters of the Canadian National Railways here, said that the contracts for the construction of the Flin Flon branch line in Northern Manitoba have been let to the Dominion Construction Company, Ltd., and Tomlinson Company, of Toronto and Winnipeg.

Report Shows

Iraq Prosperous

Industry is Flourishing and Labor Troubles Non-Existent

Jerusalem.—While the past year was anything but a prosperous one in Palestine, Syria or Egypt, the economic condition of Iraq during 1926 and the first half of 1927 was good.

Recently, the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations took note of the report which was submitted to it by the High Commissioner for Iraq, Sir Henry Dobbs, for the year 1926, in which it was pointed out that the country had progressed satisfactorily.

The revenue of the Government has exceeded the estimates by over 8 per cent. Labor trouble was practically nonexistent while industry was flourishing.

Reports from Bagdad show that this state of affairs has continued unabated.

Was Missing Sixteen Years

Woman Mourned As Victim Of Titanic Disaster Returns Home

Coalville, Leicestershire, England.—Mourned for nearly 16 years as a victim of the Titanic disaster, Mrs. Robertson walked into her old home at this place a day or two ago and nearly frightened her aged mother to death.

When she left Coalville she had booked passage on the Titanic, but at the last minute changed her plans. About her mysterious doings in the long interval, during which her father and four brothers and sisters died, she would say little. She explained she had married and done war work in Germany and had been captured by the Germans.

The Titanic, on her maiden voyage from Southampton to New York in April, 1912, struck an iceberg off Newfoundland and foundered. More than 1,500 persons perished in the disaster.

Casualties Heavy In Ukraine Revolution

Has Cost 5,000 Lives In Three Months Says Report.

New York.—Suppression of a revolt in the Ukraine at a cost of 5,000 lives during three months of bitter fighting is reported in a special copy righted despatch from Kishineff, Bessarabia, to the New York Times.

The despatch tells of massacres and street clashes in towns along the Dniester, which forms the Russian-Romanian boundary line, confirms a large measure recent despatches to the Associated Press from Bucharest citing an account of fighting in the Ukraine reported by the Romanian newspaper Dinuca.

Soviet reinforcements, which have arrived in the Ukraine in the past two weeks under the name of the revolutionary movement and after a series of setbacks in various towns the revolt was crushed out in a bloody disaster for the revolutionaries.

Soviet officials have made denial of any extensive revolt in the Ukraine, specifically denying any fighting at Kamensk-Podolsk, but the sound of prolonged firing beyond the Ukrainian hills can be heard daily from the Romanian side of the frontier, the despatch says.

Montreal Merchants Outwit Burglars

Leave No Money In Store After Closing Hours

Montreal.—Thieves, operating in Montreal, for the past few months, apparently acquired a penchant towards repeating their exploits in the same establishments. But the harassed shopkeepers have arranged in their own way means of rendering the activities of the muggers as unremunerative as possible.

Over last week-end thieves entered a branch of a chain grocery company and carried the safe away. That was their fourth visit in two months. The management, however, had one of the employees carry the money home, so that the strong-armed men received nothing but a lot of trouble for their pains. On the previous three visits the robbers secured $500 and three safes.

Changes In British Cabinet Inevitable

Rumor Is Causing Much Speculating By London Newspapers

London.—A cabinet shuffle is inevitable early in the coming year and already newspapers are speculating on the changes. It appears probable that Cunliffe Astor, Mr. Bridgeman, first lord of the Admiralty, and Col. Ashby will be elevated to the House of Lords, and that their position in the cabinet will be filled by younger men.

Progressive members of the Conservative party are making demands for better representation in the government, and are very much dissatisfied with the present administration. This feeling is resulting in considerable disunity within the party, which must be unified before the next election comes in sight.

Cost Of Canada's Army

Expenditures For Year Total $10,402,651 According To Report

Ottawa.—Military services in Canada during the year 1926-27 necessitated expenditures totaling $10,402,651 according to the annual report of the Department of National Defence. This figure does not include $80,154 for general air service. For the year 1927-18 the grand total of military service expenditures was $12,074,427 and for the next two years the expenditures will be in excess of $13,000,000.

Flying operations by the Royal Canadian Air Force during the year showed a total of 5,229 hours of flying time, covering service flying, forest protection, aerial photography and fishery protection.

The active militia strength on March 31, 1927, was placed at 3,189 ranks, other than commissioned officers.

Commuter Lost Fight Against New Ruling

Was Advised To Submit To Border Immigration Law

Buffalo, N.Y.—The first attempt of an alien to violate the border immigration ruling was lost when Judge Hazel, in district court, dismissed an application for a temporary injunction to restrain immigration officers from enforcing the ruling.

The injunction was sought on behalf of James Kemp, of Niagara Falls, Ontario, who is owner of a business establishment in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Judge Hazel, commenting on the action, advised Kemp to submit to arrest for illegal entry across the Niagara river and then to apply for a writ of habeas corpus in order that his action may be brought before the district court.

The new immigration ruling which became effective December 1, provides among other things, that Canadian nationals, who come to this country, must have visas and pay a head tax of $25.

SOVIET RUSSIA PROPOSES THAT NATIONS DISARM

Geneva.—Soviet Russia has challenged the entire world to disarm.

The Russian delegation to the disarmament commission of the League of Nations offered to destroy her land, sea and air forces, provided other nations would do the same.

The stupendous proposal left the other delegates bewildered and gazing for an answer, but with the impression that Russia had wove the peace fabric of Europe. However, the general impression, except possibly among the Russians, is that total disarmament is an ideal dream for the present at least. Nevertheless, there is everywhere a disposition to give the Soviet leaders full credit for their readiness to wipe out armaments.

That the Russians themselves realize their plan to lay down all arms and make their manufacture impracticable is too idealistic for the present, at least, was shown in the opinion of many by the fact that they voiced their willingness to negotiate in a piecemeal form for the reduction of armament if their radical project proved too revolutionary, and that they did not insist upon immediate implementation in detail of their sweeping programme. Such consideration was adjourned until the next session of the commission early in 1928.

Furthermore, although contending that complete disarmament is the best guarantee of security, the Russians, in a spirit of conciliation, agreed to send an observer to the general conference on security. It will tackle the problem of how best to increase guarantees of security in order that the nations of the world may be more willing to cut down armaments when the international conference is convened, adjourned after 81 moves. The score was six to three victories. The 25 drawn games did not count.

Law Serves Its Purpose

Sacramento.—The new state law requiring a three-day notice before a marriage license can be issued has reduced the number of marriages in California by 20 per cent. During the first month it was in effect, the regulation brought a decrease of 900, indicating that many elopements had been frustrated.

World's Chess Champion

Buenos Aires.—Alexander Alekhine, Russian, who won the world's chess championship when José R. Capablanca, the title-holder since 1921, resigned the thirty-fourth game of the series without resuming play, adjourned after 81 moves. The score was six to three victories. The 25 drawn games did not count.

Canadian Doctors In London

Will Examine Immigrants For England Before They Sail

London.—Twelve doctors from Canada have been hired for the inspection of potential migrants from this side of the Atlantic to the Dominion under the pre-embarkation medical examination scheme which has been placed in operation by the Canadian department of public health.

It is hoped that by testing the fitness of prospective immigrants before they sail, the possibility of their refection on arrival in Canada will be practically eliminated.

OATS TROPHY AGAIN WON BY HERMAN TRELL

Chicago.—Canada retained the oats sweepstakes for the best oats grown on the North American continent through Herman Trell, Wembly, Alberta, at the International Grains and Hay Show here, L. E. Patterson, Victor, Montana, taking the reserve championship.

Mr. Trell kept the oak crown which he won in 1926 with a fine sample of Victory oats weighing 49.6 pounds to the bushel. United States measure.

Canada has won the oats championship six times and Montana twice. By winning today the Canadian exhibitor stopped Mr. Peterson from taking the trophy as his own property for a third win. Next year Mr. Trell will have an opportunity of lifting the trophy.

All the winning seed grain samples are placed in a gold painted glass case under lock and key in gold painted boxes. The blue ribbons denoting championships taken by the exhibitors are laid on top of the grain. Above the glass is a big map with golden crowns showing that the field peas champion went to Saskatchewan and the oats sweepstakes to Alberta.

George Avery, Kelso, the only Saskatchewan entry in early oats, was the first Canadian exhibitor, taking the prize. L. E. Peterson, Victor, Montana, won Maurice Larcombe, Birle, Man., fourth and Samuel Larcombe, Birle, Man., fourth.

Hazing Barred From Agricultural College

Hon. J. S. Martin Gives Ruling Affecting Guelph School

Toronto.—Hazing or initiation practices at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, have been banned by Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture.

The minister's action was prompted by the recent hazing of Edward Reddick, young English student at the institution who was imprisoned in a pig cage and "auctioned" off in front of a crowd in the streets of the city a short time ago.

Mr. Martin takes the ground that hazing is, in effect, little short of mob law in a mild form and states that students who participate in any future affairs of this kind may be immediately expelled from the college.

Serious Floods Near London

People In Low Lying Country Forced To Leave Homes

London.—Serious floods in many places, especially in the low country to the West of London, followed a heavy 24-hour rainfall which accompanied a black fog over the city. The rainfall exceeded half of the average for the whole of November.

The little river Brent burst its banks, flooding scores of houses near Greenford. Police entered the district quickly to awaken the inhabitants, who had to leave their beds hastily to save what they could.

Miles of the district were under water, and the roads were impassable. The local electric plants were flooded, cutting off light and increasing the difficulties of the area.

World Abandon His Title

Japanese Prince Holds His Title Responsible For Bank Failure

Tokio.—Prince Yuasa Matsukata, holding himself responsible for the failure of the fifteenth bank, called the Peers Bank, because its stockholders and directors numbered most of the Japanese peerage, has requested permission to abandon the title.

The Prince, who was managing director of the bank, has decided to sell his remaining property, donating the proceeds to the settlement of the bank's affairs. The Prince, who was a multimillionaire before the bank's failure last April, is now living in a small house on the outskirts of Tokio.

Will Make Study Of Continent Near Pole

London.—A party of Norwegian scientists and explorers have left Norway for Cape Town, whence they will start on board the Antarctic steamer Norway to explore the South Antarctic continent. They will explore from Enderby Land round the continent to the 120th degree West, following the route of the Dellinghausen expedition of 1921.

Afterwards they will go to the South Shetland Islands to study the flora and fauna. The scientific leader of the expedition will be Professor Holtedahl and the captain of the Norway will be Captain Hornsby.

Several naturalists will be included in the company.

British Swept By Plague

Calcutta, India.—A cholera epidemic is sweeping Bengal.

Three thousand seven hundred and three cases, with 2,139 deaths, have been reported from all parts of the province, with the exception of Calcutta, for the week ending November 13.

It is estimated here that if the epidemic continues along its present course, it will increase 50 per cent. in December.

Vancouver Is Recommended

Vancouver.—Officials of the Imperial Aericultural Association of Japan have been called by Y. T. Li, air attaché of the Japanese embassy at Washington, recommending Vancouver as the terminus of the Japanese Pacific flight which will be attempted next year.

Shipping Milk To Orient

Vallejo, Cal.—Americans living in the Orient soon will have fresh milk from contented cows. A dairy company here is shipping several hundred gallons of milk to Shanghai and Singapore, using the same methods of refrigeration employed by fruit exporters.

BIG MAJORITY IN BY-ELECTION FOR HON. GEO. SPENCE

Gull Lake.—When the last returns had been received by returning officer Richard A. Davis, Hon. George Spence, recently named Minister of Railways in the Saskatchewan cabinet, had a substantial majority over his opponent, Charles Frederick Coburn, independent Progressive, in the provincial by-election for Maple Creek constituency. With 37 polls reporting out of 82, Mr. Spence had a total of 1,028 to Mr. Coburn's 396, or a majority of 632. Some time will elapse before the final figures are known, as some of the polls cannot be reached by telephone or telegraph, and travelling is extremely difficult owing to the condition of the roads.

Independent Progressives here expressed themselves satisfied with the result although some were disappointed at the small vote.

From present indications Mr. Spence will take Mr. Coburn's deposit.

Workers for both parties were busy from the minute the polls opened until closing time, but in a number of cases, cars were stalled marking it difficult to get the people to the polling booths on time.

Early returns indicated the election of Mr. Spence by a substantial majority, and the issue was never in doubt after the first ten returns had been received. It is estimated that about one-seventh of the vote turned out to cast ballots today. There are approximately 14,000 names on the voters' lists.

Hungarian Prince

Inherits Fortune

Is Serving Penitentiary Term For Forging French Franks

Budapest, Hungary.—The recent death in Czechoslovakia of Prince Alfred of Windisch-Graetz, leaves a vast fortune in the hands of Prince Ludwig of Windisch-Graetz, who is serving a penitentiary sentence for forging French francs. Prince Ludwig, who was virtually penniless by becoming heir to his uncle's fortune, once more will be well supplied with funds.

It is believed that he will be paroled and in the meantime expects to receive permission to attend his uncle's funeral.

Prince Alfred was former President of the Austrian upper house and a former Premier of Austria-Hungary. He belonged to one of the ancient feudal houses of the old Austro-Hungarian empire.

AU REVOIR, JOHNNY

Johnny Jenkins, son of Cambria, soon to leave Newfoundland's shore, On a visit to the homeland, And the friends you knew of, gone.

Friends and relatives will greet you, Clasp your hand with loving grip; Mutton stew and rarebit feed you, Welcome with proverbial nip.

Eat the leek and wear the "Daffy," Sing "Men of Harlech" when you're tight;

Swear you will, and Uncle, On a visit to the homeland,

All their troubles they will tell— How their colds are, and carbuncles, Corps and other things as well.

Johnnie, heir to their vast fortune Of a farthing and a pin; Head the loving parents' caution, Do not lie to bid thy sin.

When at night you go out strolling, And arrive home rather late; If it happen to be rolling, Confess you've had one more'sight.

If dauber should invite you With a smile and sidelong glance, To a theatre and a supper, Followed by perhaps—a dance.

Be you wary, be you careful, Ponder ere you take the bait, Say ye sweetly, "No thanks, darling;

Johnnie mustn't stay out late!"

For we mustn't lose you, Johnny, Though we'll give you lots of fun, Canada and Blairstown are you When you're long vacation's done.

—R. Wootton.

John Lloyd, who had been teaching in the Rocky Mountain House district, arrived home on Wednesday, his rural school having been closed for the winter season.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

A whist drive was held on Wednesday in aid of the Christmas Tree fund.

Arrangements are on foot to have a Christmas Tree and entertainment here for the school children.

A successful dance was held in the Cowley school house on Friday night, in aid of the Christmas Tree fund.

A blinding snowstorm swept this district on Monday. The weather still continues cold, with lots of snow. On Tuesday night the thermometer dropped to 35 below zero.

On Saturday afternoon a very successful bazaar was held here under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. Many useful articles in the line of women's and children's clothing were on display; as well as a booth containing home cooking, canning, vegetables, dressed poultry, dairy butter, etc.

Our very attractive booth, for the children was arranged by the C.S.E.T., which was laden with dainty novelties of various descriptions, as well as home-made candies, etc. Several tables tastefully decorated with vases of flowers and pretty linens, made a pleasing sensation. The waiters at these tables were kept on the hop from three o'clock until dusk. Needless to say, those who took part in making this bazaar such a success felt recompensed for their efforts.
